During installation, use and dismantling, follow these safety precautions:

- When installing, make sure the device is turned off to avoid accidental operations on the screen.
- When mounting the case, check that it does not obstruct ports, speakers, the camera, and buttons. All cutouts and openings should be precisely fitted.
- When charging, ensure the case does not block the charging cable or wireless charging port (if supported).
- Avoid forcibly removing the phone to prevent damage to the device or the case itself.
- Do not use a damaged case, as it may not provide adequate protection for the phone.
- Ensure the case does not cover the phone's ventilation openings to avoid overheating the device.

- Avoid contact between the case and chemical substances (e.g., solvents, oils) which may damage the plastic.
- With intensive use of the device, it is advisable to combine the case with a protective film or tempered glass for better screen protection. Dispose of the worn-out case in accordance with waste segregation rules.
- Use original or certified cases that are properly tailored to your phone model.
